

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, June 24. 1707.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 30.

Turin, June 11.

THE 2d and 4th Instant 120 Carts were sent from our Arsenal to Alexandria, with Cannon Baskets for 32 Pounds. The 5th our Horse broke up from Rivoli, and encamp'd at Avigliana within 4 Leagues of Suza. The 6th the Earl of Manchester Envoy extraordinary from the Queen of Great Britain arriv'd here; and has almost every Day since had Conferences with our Duke, who is perfectly recover'd of his Indisposition. The Garrison of this City having been muster'd, and furnish'd with all Necessaries for taking the Field, is order'd to march out to Morrow to Orbassan, thence to proceed to Boscha between Saluzzo and Coni to join the Imperial Forces who are arriv'd in our Duke's Territories, and whose Vanguard is come to Moncaier. Country-Militia are put into Chivas, Veruc, Ivrea, and other Places, all the regular Troops being drawn out to serve in the Field.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 2.

Turin, June 15. The 11th the Commissary who went with the Carts laden with Cannon-bullets to Alexandria return'd hither, and reported that he had seen 8000 Germans march by Asti and Alba on their Way hither. The 12th an Express arriv'd from Oneglia with Advice, that the Confederate Fleet was come to an Anchor off that Place; which Express was immediately dispatch'd back again. Letters from Barcelona that came by this Express, advise, that the Duke of Berwick having attack'd the Head of the Bridge of Tossa, met such vigorous Resistance that he was oblig'd to retire; that he afterwards took his March up the Ebro to join the Duke of Orleans; and that the Earl of Galway is march'd up the Ebro likewise to join the Count de la Puebla who has 6 or 7000 Men with him, in order to cover Lerida and dispute the Enemy's Entrance into Catalonia. 'Tis talk'd some German Troops will be transported from Final to Barcelona, to the relief of King Charles. The 13th at Night Prince Eugene arriv'd here, to regulate the further March of the Imperial Troops that are on their Way hither, and we hear some of them are already come to Orbassan. This Morning the Hereditary Prince of Hesse-Cassel went from hence to Orbassan, with a great Equipage; and was follow'd by several Waggon loads with our Duke's Equipage. This City is fill'd with German Officers and Soldiers: Our Garrison is not march'd out yet, and will continue here till the German Troops are all come together. 'Tis reckon'd the confederate Army will consist of 50000 Men regular Troops. Our Duke has been free from all Indisposition these 10 Days and is wholly taken up with making the necessary Dispositions for opening the Campaign, which will be done now very suddenly; for the Troops that are to form the Army will be all in their respective Camps of Ivrea, Boscha, and Orbassan, by to Morrow.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 1.

Milan, June 18. 'Tis presum'd the 3 B'dies of Troops form'd in Piemont will be moving within 2 or 3 Days. Norwithstanding the Detachment sent to Naples, and the Reinforcement that is to be sent to Spain, there will still be 45000 Men in Piemont to act against France; besides the Inhabitants of the Valleys and other Peasants who to a considerable Number will take Arms.

Amsterdam, July 1. The Letters from France make the Army of the Marshal de Tefse to be 83

Battallions and 38 Squadrons, which are distributed from the Coast of Provence to the farthest Edge of Savoy: But the Advices from Piemont make the whole Number to amount but to 32000 Men, and assure us the Marshal solicits Reinforcements, as not having Troops enow to guard the Passages and to form an Army able to make Head against that of the Allies. They add, that Count Medavi has given Order in Savoy, for all the Forrage and Corn of the Ground to be cut and brought into the Churchyards, in case the Allies fall into that Country. He has also commanded a List to be given him of all the Horses, Cattle, and Waggon in it: But the People flattering themselves their Deliverance is at Hand, do not execute his Orders with that Submission and Fear as formerly.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 1.

Paris, June 17. Several Letters that came in this Morning from Versailles tell us, that the Marshal de Tefse has made new Offers of very advantageous Terms to the Duke of Savoy, to draw him off from the Allies; and that King Philip of Spain has b' Letters press'd that Duke, his Father in Law, on the same Subject: But that his Royal Highness adhering firmly to the Confederates has generously rejected all Offers. The Men of War are sitting out at Toulon: 'Tis suppos'd they are design'd for Naples, at the request of the Viceroy: But many are of Opinion the Enemy will by Means of their Intelligence in that Kingdom, carry their Point before our Fleet can put to Sea. 'Tis apprehended that if the Enemy succeed in their design'd Irruption into Dauphine, it will be attended with very ill Consequences to our King's Affairs. 'Tis confirm'd that the Marshal de Tefse has sent 2 Regiments in all Haste to Languedoc and the Sevens. Letters from Madrid of the 12th Instant advise, that M. Mahoni had made himself Master of Alcala, after a Siege of 5 Days, by Capitulation, pursuant to which the Garrison consisting of 800 Men should be conducted to Catalonia: The Inhabitants submitted to the King's Clemency. 'Tis confirm'd, that the Duke of Berwick join'd the Duke of Orleans the 6th of this Month between Fraga and Mequinenza on the River Cinca, and that their united Forces encamp'd the 8th at Ayrona within two Miles of Lerida, waiting for Artillery: It was propos'd to invest Lerida the 10th. Two Burghers of Saragossa have been hang'd for concealing their Arms; which punishment has made others produce a good Number of Musquets &c that they had hid. King Philip has granted certain Privileges to the Town of Almanza, and order'd a Pillar to be set up in the Plain where the Battle was fought, to eternize the Action and the Loyalty of the Castilians. Letters from Badajos say the Duke d'Osuna lies before Moura, where he meets more Resistance than he expected.

The Letter mention'd in one of our former to be written by the Marshal de Villars to the Magistrates of Ulm, is as follows. The Style of it is so singularly Haughty, that we think it proper with the Translation to give the Original, as it is in the Amsterdam Gazette of July 1.

LA dureté que vous avez exercée, Messieurs, contre Monsieur d'Argelos & autres prisonniers, mériteroit des punitions severes, si je me laissois aller à celles qu'exige la Justice; puis-que contre toute sorte d'équité, vous avez retenu Monsieur d'Argelos & quelques autres François, malgré une Capitulation faite avec Monsieur le Baron de Thungen, Vêr-Maréchal General de l'Empereur. Si vous n'obéissez pas dans le moment, à l'ordre que je vous donne de me renvoyer Monsieur Monſieur d'Argelos, & les autres priſonniers retenus malgré la Capitulation, je laiſſerai dans vos Etats des exemples néceſſaires à ceux qui, aveuglez de quelque proſperité oublient la juſtice: ce ſera de mettre à feu & à ſang les Villes, Bourgs & Villages qui vous appartenent. Faites-vous juſtice à vous-mêmes, & évitez la mienne.

Your hard Uſage, Gentlemen, of M. d'Argelos and other Priſoners, would merit ſevere Punishment, were I diſpos'd to treat you with the Rigour that Juſtice demands; ſeeing againſt all Manner of Equity you have detain'd M. d'Argelos and ſome other Frenchmen, notwithstanding a Capitulation made with Baron Thungen the Emperour's Field-Maſhal General. At this Moment you do not obey the Order I give you to ſend me back M. d'Argelos and the other Priſoners detain'd contrary to the Capitulation, I will leave in your Territories ſuch Examples as are neceſſary for People, who being blinded by a little Proſperity, forget Juſtice. To be plain, I will lay your Cities, Towns, and Villages in Fire and Blood. Do Juſtice yourſelves and avoid mine.

The Anſwer of the Magiſtrates of Ulm: Taken from the Harlem Courant of June 30.

My Lord,

WE have with all Reſpect perceiv'd by a Duplicate from you of the 11th Inſtant, that you would have M. d'Argelos, his Servants, and thoſe of M. de Plancy, releas'd. We firſt declare with all Sincerity, that the Letter from which the Duplicate was copied was not deliver'd to us; and that we neither us'd nor offer'd to uſe any Violence towards the Courier of Sargard who was to have deliver'd it to us; being thoroughly ſenſible what Reſpect we ought to have for a Letter from ſo illuſtrious a General as your Excellency. As for our detaining M. d'Argelos and M. de Plancy, your Excellency may pleaſe to be inform'd that they were ſtop'd by expreſs Order from the King of the Romans, at preſent his Imperial Maſteſty our Sovereign, for the Sum of 220000 Livres, which (over and above our Quota of Contributions) the late M. de Blainville had borrow'd of us, to ſubſiſt the Troops of his moſt Chriſtian Maſteſty; and which he engag'd himſelf to repay by ſelling his Equiſage, if other Means ſhould fail him. And tho' in the Capitulation made with General Thungen without our Knowledge, mention of this was not expreſſly made, nor indeed could be made, becauſe it was a particular Affair, yet from the Reaſons we have aliedg'd your Excellency may be pleas'd to ſee our Innocence. As for our Uſage of theſe Gentlemen, they were at firſt treated very honourably, being allow'd the Liberty of going all over the City without Guards, till M. de Plancy made his Eſcape in Breach of his Parole, and M. d'Argelos would have eſcap'd likewise in a Diſguiſe; which occaſion'd his being confin'd more cloſely, that we might not make ourſelves anſwerable for him to his Imperial Maſteſty: And tho' we cannot tell how his Maſteſty will take the Reſolution we have paſſ'd, to ſend back that Colonel and his Servants to you; yet we would not be wanting to ſatisfy your Excellency's Deſire, being mindful of the Civilities and Favours we have formerly receiv'd from you. So having readily ſet at Liberty M. d'Argelos and his Servants, we have deſir'd the Margrave of Bareith to give Order that M. d'Argelos and his Servants, and thoſe of M. de Plancy may be ſafely ſent to you accompanied with this Letter, by which we have the Honour to recommend ourſelves to your Favour, and to aſſure your Excellency, that we are, with inviolable Submission and the profoundeſt Reſpect in the World,

My Lord

Your moſt humble and moſt obedient Servants, the Burgomaſters and Senate of the Imperial City of Ulm. June 12. 1707.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated July 2.

Hildesheim, June 28. 'Tis not known yet whether the Elector of Hanover will accept of the Command of the Army of the Empire; but 'tis hop'd he will, becauſe his Electoral Highneſs having made 17 Campaigns in Perſon, is well ſkill'd in War.

Hague, July 1. The Elector of Hanover's Miniſter here has declar'd, that his Maſter will ſend 3 Regiments to the Army of the Empire, and that he is inclin'd to accept the Command of that Army, but would know upon what Foot and how he ſhall be provided and ſupported with what is neceſſary. 'Tis apprehended the ſelling all this will be an Affair of ſome Length.

The Clergy-Man who Cures the Kings Evil liveth in Sherburne-Lane near Lombard-ſtreet, whoſe Knowledge and Experience in healing of this diſtemper came from Curing himſelf, it being evident that no Perſon was ever more grievouſly afflicted therewith (from Head to Foot being blind for 2 years) then he has been, who now enjoyeth a good Health, Sight and ſound Conſtitution as any Man living, Encouragement ſufficient (had he no other Inſtances of the Efficacy of his Medicines in this Caſe) to recommend them to the publick.

Long before any ſuch thing as a Venetian Strop was ever hatch'd or thought on, were often publiſh'd the true Original Strops for ſetting Razors, Pen-knives and Lancets to a moſt exquisite fine Edge, and poliſhing them to an extraordinary Brightneſs; and had not theſe been known to anſwer the juſt Character given them through the whole Nation, the Venetian Author had never Aped 'em under a Sham Title, and had the Impudence to impoſe that Name upon thoſe he knows to be the true ones firſt publiſh'd in England; therefore beware of thoſe and other Counterfeits, the True ones being only Sold at John's Coffee-houſe in Sweeting's Alley near the Royal Exchange, at 1 s. each, with directions ſet to 'em, as has been often mention'd in the Gazette. Foal Billingsgate Language (mention'd in the Generous Advertiser) deſerving no other Anſwer than this.

All Perſons afflicted with any Scrofulous Diſeaſes, Strumous Tumours or Malignant Ulcers, either in the Glands, or other Parts of the Body, which are commonly call'd the King's Evil, may not only be Reliev'd but perfectly Cured, if they are thought fit to be undertaken. By Tho. Fern, Chirurgeon, at his Houſe in Grange Court in Little-Lincolns-Inn-Fields, who formerly labouring for 6 Years under the ſame Maladies in his Breſt, Thigh and Ankle, and being deſpair'd of by ſeveral eminent Chirurgeons, with their laſt Advice, was himſelf yet perfectly reſtor'd at 17 Years old, by the Bleſſing of God and thoſe very Medicines he now offers to the Publick, whereby he has already for 16 Years laſt paſt cur'd ſeveral Perſons of Note, a Catalogue of whoſe Names, may be ſeen at his Dwelling-Houſe as above directed.

Theſe are to give notice, That Mr. Baxter's Practical Works in 4 Volumes in Folio are finiſh'd, and will be ready to be deliver'd to the Subſcribers upon paying the 2d Payment, according to the Propoſals, on the 23d of this Inſtant June, by Tho. Parkhurſt, Jonathan Robiſon, and John Lawrence.
